

Lando Norris races for McLaren in Formula 1. He wants to win by being himself.

Norris and Oscar Piastri are good drivers. McLaren wants them to work together to help the team win, even if they both want to be the best.

Norris thinks he is a good teammate. He likes to have fun and enjoy life, even while racing. He believes this helps the team do better.

Racing teammates often compete, but McLaren hopes Norris and Piastri can work well together.

Norris knows that racing against someone in the same car can be tough. But he thinks it helps them learn and get better, which is good for the team.

This year, Piastri has been doing really well. Norris is happy with his own performance and believes he can still win the championship.

Norris has talked about how the McLaren car feels different this year. He is trying new ways to drive better and get the best out of the car.

Norris finds racing against Max Verstappen tough. They are friends, but Norris respects Verstappen's skills.

Norris believes he can be the best driver. He knows it's hard to be the best every day, but he is confident he can win and be the best in the world.