

Hospital Ward to Close Soon

A hospital ward in Ayrshire for people with complex learning disabilities will close soon. Families were told only four weeks before the closure.

Ward 7A at Woodland View Hospital will close on July 14 because of safety problems like violence and not enough staff.

A family in West Kilbride is worried about their son moving home. Experts say moving quickly with new carers could be harmful.