

A Yorkshire abattoir was fined over £62,800 for stopping inspectors from checking their work, which is against the law.

The FSA checks food is safe and right. They visit places like abattoirs. Stopping them costs money. They help keep food safe for all.