

A Boeing plane crashed in India. It wasn't the company's fault. It's not a 737 Max. Experts say most crashes happen because of human mistakes.

Boeing is helping Air India learn about the crash. Boeing's shares dropped. They have money and safety problems and are working to fix them.

A worker said there were safety problems at Boeing. Boeing denied this. Another worker felt threatened. Boeing says they are improving safety.

Boeing paid money for past crashes. A new boss wants to improve safety and help Boeing make money again.
