

Keep EHCPs for All Children

People worry children with special needs might lose help if the government stops giving EHCPs in regular schools.

EHCPs help kids with disabilities learn by giving them support. Without them, more kids might need special schools, which are already full.

Famous people and others want to keep EHCPs. They started "Save Our Children's Rights" and many have signed a petition to help.