

The Lambeth Country Show in south London is a free festival in Brockwell Park with vegetables carved to look like famous people.

People made veggie sculptures of famous faces like Dolly Parton and the Pope. Funny names like 'Mo Salad' and 'Cornclave' made everyone laugh.

The festival is a fun time for everyone to enjoy art, be outside, and spend time with friends and family.

The Lambeth Country Show is a yearly event in south London. It's fun and creative, loved by everyone who visits.