

A man is in trouble for driving into a crowd at a Liverpool parade. Many got hurt. He used to be a Royal Marine.

He went to court in a black suit. Doyle only said his name and address. He is charged with hurting six people. The judge said he stays in jail.

The police are checking videos to learn about the accident. They are working hard to find out what happened.

People are upset. Police are thinking of those hurt and will share more info soon. Doyle's next court date is in August.