

Helping People Start Their Own Jobs

SAMEE helps people with disabilities start businesses. They support 20 people and want to help more. They believe everyone has talent.

SAMEE began in 2016 to help people find work that fits their health and needs, focusing on all parts of life, not just work.

Logan shared his art at an exhibition. The charity helps him. Rob says it's important to feel valued and learn self-employment skills.