

Helping Everyone Get Tech

The UK has a plan called IT Reuse for Good Charter. It gives old computers to people who need them. Big companies and charities are helping.

Some in the UK can't go online due to no device. The Charter aims to help by giving devices and teaching how to use them.

The Charter cuts electronic waste. Groups work together to make devices safe. This helps people like Ryan, who got a laptop to find jobs.