

New Water Rules for Cleaner Rivers

Water companies must use nature to clean water, like building wetlands. This is part of new rules in the Water (Special Measures) Act.

Water companies must show how they clean water and help animals. This keeps rivers, lakes, and seas safe and healthy.

The Government wants water companies to use natural ways to clean water. This helps the environment, saves money, and reduces flood risks.