

Help for Bigger Families

Rachel Reeves wants to stop money limits for big families. She thinks it's unfair for children to get less help. This might change in the next Budget.

Some in Labour want to end the rule that cuts money after two kids. Ending it could help many children out of poverty.

Reeves wants to change tax rules to help the country and make sure the NHS gets enough money to help people.