

A 15-year-old died from a head injury after a kickboxing fight. The fight lacked safety checks and rules. The sport is not well organised.

Alex's family said his death was not just an accident but a failure to keep him safe. The coroner wants better rules for children's combat sports.

Alex's step-mum wants new rules to keep kids safe in sports. She asked leaders to make changes quickly to protect children.