

News from the United Nations

The United Nations helps with disability, family, and youth. They have meetings to improve life and support Indigenous Peoples and better cities.

They had a big meeting in Paris about climate change. Another meeting was about Indigenous languages to help keep them alive.

The UN plans to make cities easier for people with disabilities. They met in Nairobi and also discussed helping Indigenous Peoples in Asia and Africa.