

New School Lessons in England

Kids in England will learn about money, mortgages, fake news, and AI in school as part of a new plan.

The government will change school rules. They will teach climate change and diversity. Schools need more money and teachers.

Some worry fewer kids will study languages. The government wants kids to have more choices like art and music. Schools will have time to prepare.