

Supporting Learning Disabilities

The Day Opportunities programme helps over 700 adults with learning disabilities live more independently, with over 50% joining community activities.

Garth Anderson, leader of the programme, will retire. He created the Railtrack Model with activities like volunteering and arts based on users' needs.

The programme helps adults with work, volunteering, and fun activities. Success will be celebrated in September.