

The BBC uses cookies to help its website work. You can choose to accept, reject, or pick which extra cookies you want.

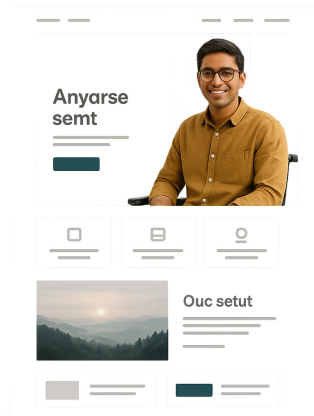

England beat West Indies in a T20 match in Bristol. England needed 197 runs and won with four wickets left. Jos Buttler scored 47 runs.

Jacob Bethell and Tom Banton hit big sixes for England. West Indies scored well at the end. Luke Wood and Adil Rashid were important for England.

West Indies hit many sixes at the end. England's bowlers struggled. The series ends with a match in Southampton.

The BBC site has News, Sport, and Culture. You can read stories and watch videos. They have rules about privacy and your information.