

Changes in the UK Government

The Home Secretary wants to change rules for refugees and give less help to asylum seekers. Some people in her party are worried.

Rachel Reeves is working on a Budget to help NHS waiting lists and cost of living. Raising income tax was considered but won't happen now.

Inside Downing Street, there is confusion and worry about leadership. Some people think the Prime Minister's team is making mistakes. They want to.