

Trump sent the National Guard to help with peaceful immigration protests in Los Angeles. Some people were happy, others were upset.

The police acted safely. Trump sent 2,000 soldiers, which upset some people as the California Governor did not agree.

Trump thinks being tough on immigration will please his supporters and attract more. Some people disagree and think it makes things worse.

Democrats think Trump using soldiers and masked officers is too much and could cause more problems. Protests might lead to more unrest this summer.