

Help with Energy Problems

The UK will help people get money back faster when energy companies make mistakes. This will make people safer.

The government and Ofgem will ensure companies pay compensation quickly to fix long waits and wrong bills, helping people save money and feel safer.

More families will get £150 off energy bills next winter. The government is also helping with school meals and childcare costs.