

Coco Gauff forgot her racquets at the French Open but still won her match. She laughed about the mistake and said she won't forget next time.

Everyone forgets things. Coco forgot her racquets but laughed with her team. A ball kid helped, and she won her match 6-2, 6-2 in 71 minutes.

Coco's story shows we can succeed even if we make mistakes. Always check your bag before important events. Have you ever forgotten something?
