

New Leaders for Police Team

The Civil Nuclear Constabulary has new leaders. They want everyone treated well and supported. They have lots of policing experience.

Two new team members: Alastair, with 30 years' experience, cares about respect. Aidan, an experienced officer, supports learning from mistakes.

Both leaders want good police standards. They will help officers improve but won't allow bad behaviour. They aim for a helpful, open department.