

Celebrities Show Kindness on TV

The Assembly is a TV show with famous people talking to interviewers with autism or learning disabilities. It shows kindness and belonging.

Danny Dyer's chat was lively. David Tenant's was deep with music. Jade Thirlwall's was emotional, with questions and joyful dancing.

Gary Lineker's episode was funny and heartfelt. He talked about family, his son's cancer, and the World Cup, with jokes and a sing-along.