

Wildlife Photo Winners 2025

A brown hyena photo by Wim van den Heever won Wildlife Photographer of the Year. The award was at London's Natural History Museum.

Andrea took a photo of a beetle in Italy. Shane took a photo of eels in Seychelles. The exhibition starts on 17 October at the Natural History Museum.

Young photographers like Jamie Smart found a spider in Wales. The event shows wildlife's beauty and aims to raise awareness about conservation.