

A mistrial was declared in Harvey Weinstein's case because a juror refused to continue. Jurors argued, and one was scared to return.

Weinstein was guilty of hurting Miriam Haley. He was not guilty of hurting Kaja Sokola. There was a mistrial for a charge from Jessica Mann.

Weinstein's old conviction was overturned. He has a 16-year sentence from another case. The trial was hard with tension among the jurors.