

Tom Felton will play Draco Malfoy in the stage show "Harry Potter and the Cursed Child."

Felton will play Draco in New York for 19 weeks from 11 November. He is excited and says being in Harry Potter is a big honour.

The play is very popular worldwide. It's the top non-musical on Broadway. Producers are happy Felton joined, as he adds feelings and memories.

Felton acted in a movie about apes, a play in London, and wrote a book about growing up in Harry Potter films. New show tickets will be on sale soon.
