

10 Years of Open Company Data

Companies House gives free company data. This helps people learn about UK companies.

The data is used a lot to fight crime and make business safer. New laws will help by checking who company directors are.

The data is worth £1-3 billion each year. New laws will help businesses and police stop fraud and corruption.