

The Council for Science and Technology advised the Prime Minister to focus on smoking, drinking, air pollution, and obesity for better health.

They want to help kids stay healthy and stop diseases. The aim is for everyone to live healthier and have a better future.