

New Rules for Oil and Gas Projects

UK has new rules for checking how oil and gas projects affect the environment. This helps companies know what to do in the North Sea.

The government wants oil and gas work to be safer for the planet. They are funding projects to clean the air and create jobs in clean energy.

New guidance helps oil and gas workers find clean energy jobs. The government helps them learn new skills for good future jobs in clean energy.