

Denise Welch got a special prize at the British Soap Awards. She has been in Emmerdale, Coronation Street, Hollyoaks, and EastEnders.

Denise was to give an award but got one instead. Martin Kemp and Shirlie gave it to her. The trophy had special items from her shows.

People said nice things about Denise, calling her "Queen of England". The awards were on TV on Thursday, but happened the weekend before.

EastEnders won many awards, including best British soap, at Hackney Empire. Jane McDonald hosted the event.
