

Gemma has a learning disability. Her mum, Lorna, is upset because Gemma has to pay for college. She thinks it should be free.

East Ayrshire Council wants Gemma to pay £5,500 for support. Other councils don't charge, and Gemma's mum thinks it's unfair.

Gemma got a final payment demand. She finds it hard to talk. Her mum is worried about what this means for future students.

Corseford College helps students learn skills. Gemma likes meeting friends and art. Her mum thinks about costs and Gemma's future.