

Security Boss Must Pay Hidden Money

A security boss in Lincolnshire must pay over £44,500 for hiding money. If not paid by 25 July 2025, he may go to jail for 8 months.

Trevor Frater worked without a licence and used unlicensed staff. He said he had little money, but had over £100,000. Now, he must pay it back.

The SIA checks security workers have licences. They make sure people follow the law and can fine those who break it.
