

The Legal Aid Agency had a cyber-attack on its online services affecting legal aid applicants. It began on 23 April and was worse than first thought.

People's personal data was taken. Be careful with your details. Watch for strange messages or calls. Update your passwords.

The online service is down for safety. They are fixing it and have plans for legal aid. Sharing stolen data is illegal.