

The NHS app will send test results and reminders. This saves money and reduces letters. People without smartphones will get messages differently.

The app helps people manage health and remember appointments. Over 11 million use it monthly. Many hospitals in England use it too.

Some worry the app leaves out those without internet. But it helps patients and saves money. It also lets patients track their prescriptions.