

A missile hit a city in Israel called Rishon LeZion. It happened on Saturday morning. Two people died, and many were hurt.

The missile hit homes and cars. People ran to shelters. Ifat Benhaim's family was in the basement. Their house was a mess when they came out.

There were six attacks that night. Israel attacked Iran first, and Iran fought back. Many people were hurt or killed in both countries.

People feel sad and worried. Someone wrote "Until when?" on a dusty car. The fighting is new but very serious.
