

The Brit School in London got money to fix buildings. A ceiling fell, closing rooms. Famous students include Adele and Amy Winehouse.

The money will fix the roof and make fire safety better. The school has five buildings, some old, needing repairs.

The money will help schools in need. Work starts in summer. The government says this shows they care about children's education and future.