

Relationship Learning Toolkit

A student made a toolkit to teach people with learning disabilities about relationships, consent, and their bodies using a traffic light system.

The toolkit has 3D models, stamps, and cards to help learn about healthy relationships, consent, and warning signs like abuse.

Sarah wants schools to use the toolkit for sex education. She thinks everyone should learn safely about bodies and relationships.