

Female tennis players can freeze eggs and keep their ranking. Sloane Stephens says this helps them not rush back too soon.

Players can use a special ranking for 3 tournaments in 10 weeks after freezing eggs. It's based on their average place before and during the break.

The WTA helps with fertility treatment, paid maternity leave, and health support. New mums can use their old ranking in 12 tournaments over 3 years.

Some sports help women freeze eggs. Famous players like Nat Sciver-Brunt talk about it. It helps women have families and play sports.
