

Help for Veterans in the North

The VALOUR network is a £50 million support system in northern England to help veterans with housing, health, and jobs.

The project links councils, charities, and services in Manchester and Liverpool. Veterans can join research to improve support for all.

The Government is investing in homelessness support and career help. The VALOUR network will model future support systems for veterans in the UK.