

The government wants to make the internet safer for kids by limiting app use time and setting a bedtime for devices.

Some worry kids use screens too much, seeing apps, videos, games. Instagram has rules to keep young users safe online.

Being online can help kids talk to friends, learn, and have fun. The government is finding ways to keep kids safe online.