

Prince George at Remembrance Event

Prince George joined King Charles, Queen Camilla, and Princess Catherine at the Festival of Remembrance in London.

The Prime Minister and his wife attended an event ending the ban on gay people in the forces. The Royal Family clapped as Chelsea Pensioners marched.

Princess Catherine wore a special poppy, and Sir Rod Stewart performed with the RAF Squadronaires. Veterans, including those from D-Day, attended..