

The Foreign Secretary spoke about power, tech, and working with others. He also offered help after the plane crash in Ahmedabad.

The Secretary said tech is strong in 2025. China is good at AI and space. The US leads in biotech. Britain must handle these changes.

Many countries have power now. Britain has many scientists and works with countries like South Korea. They want to work with more countries.

Britain wants to stop bad money, have peace in the Middle East, and support two countries for Israel and Palestine.

Britain is making deals for climate, defence, and growth with Brazil, Japan, and Saudi Arabia. They also want to stop irregular migration.

Britain will spend more on defence by 2027. Europe is getting stronger to help Ukraine and stop the war with Russia.

The Foreign Secretary wants a safer, greener, happier Britain. He believes in being proud and smart, taking bold actions in the world.