

New Law to Stop Harmful Videos

The UK plans to make online porn showing choking illegal to stop violence against women and girls. It will be a crime to have or share it.

The Online Safety Act makes tech firms remove harmful content or face action. The government aims to stop harmful behaviours becoming normal.

Some worry the new law won't work as similar ones aren't enforced. They hope the government will act to stop dangerous content this time.