

Airport delays from cyber-attack.

Collins Aerospace is fixing the problem. British Airways used a back-up system. Other airlines faced long queues and delays at Heathrow.

The National Cyber Security Centre and European Commission are helping airports and airlines after an attack caused flight delays and cancellations.