

The UK is worried Eritrea isn't working with the UN on human rights. They're happy about better education but say more work is needed.

The UK wants changes to national service in Eritrea to stop young people leaving. They also want people in jail for their beliefs to be freed. The UK.