

Shakira's tour "Las Mujeres Ya No Lloran" has over 2 million fans. Her team works hard, even bringing washing machines for costumes.

Shakira's tour is special with lots of dancing, 13 costume changes, guitar playing, and cultural dances. Her new album shares her tough times.

Shakira's kids, Sasha and Milan, join her on stage. She says they keep her going. Fans love her music and feel connected to her story.

Shakira moved to the US as a teen to be a pop star. She learned English from poetry and songs. She now speaks up for immigrants and kindness.

Shakira's fans are everywhere. In Miami, people sing her songs. She inspires many with her strength and creativity.

Shakira might bring her tour to Europe. No dates yet. Fans in the UK hope to see her perform soon.

Shakira's shows are full of energy. She says it's okay to make mistakes and life is about trying again.