

Army Talk at Big Meeting

General Sir Roly Walker said the Army is using robots and drones to be stronger and ready for the future.

The Army is training soldiers to use drones and new tools to be faster and better by 2027.

General Walker says the Army should welcome everyone, offering good jobs and training. He believes it can help people have better lives.