

Brooklands Hospital Gets Better Rating

Brooklands Hospital in Birmingham now has a 'good' rating from the CQC after making big changes.

The hospital hired more nurses and trained staff to fix problems with staff and safety. This helped make it better for nurses and students.

The hospital is safer now with more staff. They listen to patients and carers. They are proud of their hard work.