

Communication for Everyone

Talking helps us feel close to others. We all talk in our own way and sometimes need help to do it well.

Many in the UK need help to talk and understand at work, school, and with doctors. This campaign wants everyone to get the help they need.

Plan for inclusive communication so everyone feels included and can live well, no matter how they communicate.