People once thought Musk was smart and important. Now, some think he's strange and not as good at his job. Some even have funny ideas about him.

Tesla investors are glad Musk will focus more on Tesla. They want him to fix problems. Some didn't like him using the White House for car sales.

Musk feels misunderstood. A TV joke wasn't used, and now he's less popular. He needs to find new things to do.

Musk might go to Mars next. He dreams of making it his own place. Even if Mars is not nice, he wants to be known as someone important there.
