

Benjamin had suitcase trouble at the airport. He thought it was the right size, but it was too big with wheels. He paid extra and felt upset.

Airlines have different bag rules. This can confuse people. The EU wants clear rules so people know bag sizes and avoid extra fees.

People want airlines to have the same bag size rules. This helps avoid surprises and saves money. Check your bag size after packing.

Budget airlines say they follow the law and keep prices low. Some people want one rule for all airlines to make travel fairer.

Benjamin thinks one bag size for all airlines would help. He found it hard to find a small bag but was happy to visit a beautiful country.
